

Puppy Socialisation Classes

PUPi facilitates and supports puppy socialisation classes held at veterinary clinics by providing puppy class instruction manuals and training for instructors.

Dogs learn best when they are young. Puppy classes at veterinary clinics are an invaluable opportunity for socialising your puppy in a controlled environment with puppies of its own age. A good puppy class covers basic training exercises, health issues, correct handling procedures and the prevention of behavioural problems, whilst still providing ample opportunity for socialisation with people and puppies. Puppy classes cater for puppies between 8 and 14 weeks of age, or for slightly older dogs of smaller breeds. The following clinics hold successful puppy socialisation classes which are specifically designed to lead you into the next stage of training, PUPi management.
